BOLD WORK OF ANARCHISTS IN THE STREETS OF CADIZ.

Threatening Letters Received by the Authorities—Outrage at Valencia—Ravachol's Relatives Deny His Identity—Incendiary Fires in Austria—Explosives Found by a Hunter—An Indianapolis Suspect.

MADRID, April 14.—The optimistic view taken of the anarchist situation here and the belief that the prompt action of the authorities would prevent the commission of further outrages of that character has received a severe setback. It appears now that after the arrest of Delbaco, Ferreira and Munoz the anarchists temporarily relapsed into quietude, but they have again resumed their work in different parts of the country. It would naturally be supposed that all their attempts would be directed against those in authority, but it appears that, with blind and unreasoning malignancy, they only desire to kill for the sake of killing, and not bring about a change in the existing order of government. An illustration of this was given to-day at Cadiz.

Like all Spanish cities Cadiz has been closely observing Holy Week. To-day being Holy Thursday there was a public procession of worshippers, the priests bearing religious emblems and relics. A considerable crowd watched the processionists as they passed along the streets, a great majority of the bystanders bowing reverently as the religious emblems were carried past them.

Everywhere in the procession was passing slowly along without the least thought of danger, when suddenly two men in the crowd of onlookers threw two bombs directly into the procession. Those in the line were panic-stricken and fled in every direction. The bystanders were also terribly frightened and sought safety in flight. In the confusion and excitement the villains who threw the bombs made their escape, and there is not the slightest clue to their identity. A number of the processionists were injured by the explosion, and some of them may die.

The police authorities are very active in consequence of the circular letter recently sent to them by the Minister of Justice, and a large number of persons supposed to be directly or indirectly connected with the plots have been arrested. Many of the arrests have been made in Cadiz and Valencia.

The authorities here continue to receive letters threatening to kill them and to destroy property, but little attention is paid to them. Every possible precaution has been taken to prevent outrages and every suspected anarchist is closely watched.

Owing to the anarchist agitation, which has caused a general feeling of uneasiness, the elaborate Holy Week ceremonies have been poorly attended. The many threats that have been made to destroy the place of worship, and the confession of Munoz, who said it was his intention to place in the holy water founts a certain substance that would explode after short contact with water, have so frightened the church-goers that they have remained at home.

The socialists and workmen's associations are divided in regard to the arrangements for the May Day celebration. It is not expected that a large number of persons will be very impressive. Fresh strikes are threatened in various industries and it is believed that they will be extensive.

The anarchist movement is again being examined yesterday, when he gave very minute details regarding the manufacture of bombs, which were found in the Cortes, which led to the contact with the anarchists. He stated that his intention to place such bombs in the holy water basins in various churches. Munoz accompanied a magistrate and other officers to a place where experiments were made, which convinced the officials of the truth of the prisoner's statements.

EXPLOSION AT VALENCIA. Another bomb was exploded at Valencia yesterday, presumably by anarchists. Much damage was done to property and the people are terrorized.

The Paris magistrate before whom the matter has been brought, has decided that there is no case against Gustav Mathieu, the alleged accomplice of Ravachol, and the warrants which were issued against Mathieu have accordingly been annulled. Le Soir says that Ravachol's relatives have been shown a photograph of the man taken in prison and they deny his identity.

The fire which devastated the village of Leonfelden, in Upper Austria, did much more destruction than had been reported. The total damage is not less than half a million florins. The best part of the village is destroyed, and the inhabitants are being cared for in the neighboring farm houses. The fire is believed beyond doubt to be incendiary, as deliveries had for some time existed between the leading employer of labor in the village and certain workmen. The rural districts of Austria are almost in a panic on the subject of incendiary fires, which are becoming very common, and have caused loss of life and extensive loss of property.

DYNAMITERS' DEN. SEDALIA, Mo., April 14.—Numerous dispatches have reached this city concerning the mysterious disappearance of Miss Sturtevant of Columbus, O. The case attracts attention here because of the fact that she was a former resident of this city, a belle and a beauty. Her father, Dr. R. Sturtevant, mother and one brother, she left this city for Columbus about two years ago. It has been suggested that she came to Sedalia, but she has not been here since the family moved away.

CINCINNATI, O., April 14.—The police have so far found no clue to the missing Miss Sturtevant who disappeared from Columbus a few days ago.

GLITTERING DISPLAY ATTENDS THE READING OF THE FIRMAN.

The Irish Parliamentary Party Administered—British Topics—A Commission Adjusting the Claims of Canadian Sealers—Emperor Joseph's Lesson in Humility—General Foreign.

CAIRO, April 14.—The investiture of the Khedive took place to-day at the Abdin Palace. Much delay has occurred in the reading of the firman of investiture. The Sultan's special envoy, Ahmed Eyyub Pasha, and his suite arrived here from Constantinople on the 4th, since which time they have been sojourning at the Muezzin Palace. The ceremony of the investiture was held at the palace, where they received Ahmed Eyyub Pasha, who arrived at 10 o'clock, accompanied by a brilliant escort of cavalry. The firman of investiture was read by an official, who also read a telegram from the Sultan conferring upon the Khedive the administration of the Sinai Peninsula.

Upon the conclusion of the reading the assembled troops thrice saluted the Sultan and a band played the Turkish anthem. After this the troops saluted the Khedive three times and the Egyptian anthem was played. Theicasts and general preparations began early last evening to make to-day memorable with general rejoicing and a grand public ceremony.

It was made known officially yesterday that all difficulties had been removed, and that the Sultan had modified his attitude in such a way as to be satisfactory to the Khedive, to England and to Italy, leaving the Khedive in full and undisputed control of all Egyptian affairs. #### TARIFF REFORM THE ISSUE AND CLEVELAND THE LEADER.

The Tilden Campaign Paralleled—All Differences Will be Harmonized—Meeting of the Michigan Republican State Convention—Marylanders Outspoken for Cleveland—Over the Political Field.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Ex-Secretary of the Navy William O. Whitney started on a six-weeks' trip to Europe yesterday afternoon. He goes on a visit to a daughter who has been away two years. Just prior to his departure he said to a reporter: "The only trouble with the Democratic party in the elections and possibly bad blood. The situation, however, is very much what it was in 1876, when Gov. Tilden was nominated. The Democratic party in the West was committed very generally and pretty ardently to greenbackism. The candidacy of Gov. Tilden was looked upon as likely to fail of support in the West. The second grant administration had created an issue, and Gov. Tilden, by reason of his vigorous warfare upon the Tweed ring and canal ring in this State, was the dominant figure in the Democratic party to meet it. He was nominated and greenbackism was forgotten. The necessity for reform in the Government became the sole issue. The party was united upon it and really carried the election."

"At this distance from the convention of 1876 there was a perfect parallelism between the condition of the party at that time and now, and with regard to candidates it seems to me that the situation is the same as it was at that time. For good or ill, the issue of the Democratic party at the present time is tariff reform, not free trade, not the destruction of industries in any way that have grown up under present tariff laws, but relief from over-protection unnecessary for the prosperity of our industries, from the overtaxation of the people that results from it, from enriching a few at the expense of the many, and from extravagance in public expenditures which results from the overtaxation of the people."

"The battle of 1876 has to be fought upon these issues in general. They have been fought under present tariff laws, but the relief from over-protection unnecessary for the prosperity of our industries, from the overtaxation of the people that results from it, from enriching a few at the expense of the many, and from extravagance in public expenditures which results from the overtaxation of the people."

UNITED DEMOCRACY

Encouraging Words From Ex-Secretary Whitney.

TARIFF REFORM THE ISSUE AND CLEVELAND THE LEADER.

The Tilden Campaign Paralleled—All Differences Will be Harmonized—Meeting of the Michigan Republican State Convention—Marylanders Outspoken for Cleveland—Over the Political Field.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Ex-Secretary of the Navy William O. Whitney started on a six-weeks' trip to Europe yesterday afternoon. He goes on a visit to a daughter who has been away two years. Just prior to his departure he said to a reporter: "The only trouble with the Democratic party in the elections and possibly bad blood. The situation, however, is very much what it was in 1876, when Gov. Tilden was nominated. The Democratic party in the West was committed very generally and pretty ardently to greenbackism. The candidacy of Gov. Tilden was looked upon as likely to fail of support in the West. The second grant administration had created an issue, and Gov. Tilden, by reason of his vigorous warfare upon the Tweed ring and canal ring in this State, was the dominant figure in the Democratic party to meet it. He was nominated and greenbackism was forgotten. The necessity for reform in the Government became the sole issue. The party was united upon it and really carried the election."

"At this distance from the convention of 1876 there was a perfect parallelism between the condition of the party at that time and now, and with regard to candidates it seems to me that the situation is the same as it was at that time. For good or ill, the issue of the Democratic party at the present time is tariff reform, not free trade, not the destruction of industries in any way that have grown up under present tariff laws, but relief from over-protection unnecessary for the prosperity of our industries, from the overtaxation of the people that results from it, from enriching a few at the expense of the many, and from extravagance in public expenditures which results from the overtaxation of the people."

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

THE HAGAN—"The Vendetta."
GRAND OPERA-HOUSE—"Hos and Hos." OLYMPIA—Lillian Russell.
BRANDS—Rose Hill Folly Company.
FORSYTH—"A Breezy Time."
HAYLIS—John L. Sullivan.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Clearing; slightly cooler to-night; warmer Friday night; north gales, diminishing.
The storm which was central yesterday in Kansas has moved eastward and is now central in Southern Indiana, having passed this section during the night. The pressure at the center is now unusually low, being but little over 29 deg. 70 inches, but the gradients to the west are sufficient to produce high northwesterly winds in the Mississippi Valley. This is causing a fall of from ten to fifteen degrees in temperature from Iowa southward. The high pressure rear of the storm has its crest extended in a ridge from Dakota to Texas, from which line westward the temperature is moderating. Rain has fallen in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and clearing conditions have moved eastward to Nebraska.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for St. Louis: Rain to-night; clearing this afternoon or to-night; colder to-night; fair and slightly warmer Friday.

The Mayor speaks the truth when he says the wolves are following him.

DR. PARKHURST succeeds pretty well in proving his good intentions and bad judgment.

The School Board cannot afford to shield a director at the expense of its own reputation.

What do the "push" get should DALTON secure the governorship? That's the interesting question.

If a man is known by the company he keeps what kind of a man is Mr. DALTON politically speaking?

THERE have been many explanations of the Republican victory in Rhode Island, but the causes may be summed up in one word—boodles.

WHAT a State administration controlled by NOONAN would be may be judged by what the city administration run by NOONAN has been.

THE charge of crookedness in awarding those elevator contracts will stick to the whole School Board unless it is disproved or placed where it belongs.

CHARGES of boodling can be ignored by men whose good character has been established beyond peradventure. Men whose bad character is similarly established must face the music.

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH accepts advertising on a distinct and unequivocal guarantee that its circulation in the City of St. Louis and suburbs is more than double that of the "Republic" and larger than any other Sunday newspaper.

It was undoubtedly a mistake of the Democratic City Central Committee to call the primary election so early and to bunch the elections of all delegates, but this is not a good reason for turning the control of the delegations over to the Mayor and his henchmen.

It is given out that "Farmer DICK" has bought the Mayor's herd of cattle. Last week they were STONE'S, and no man can tell how many different brands they will wear before the close of the primary polls.
They are "breachy" animals, trained to break into the inclosure that promises the best grazing.

THE war in Wyoming is the result of the concentration of cattle interests in a few hands and the annihilation of small ranchmen. In the wild and woolly West the small men protest against this sometimes violently. In the East plutocracy and pinkertonism is too strong for them and they usually submit.

THE pension investigation has proceeded far enough to disclose the fact that our huge pension system is chiefly for the benefit of sharks and patriots for revenue only. The good of the veteran is the last thing thought of by the DUDLEY, RAUMS and LEMONS, who have built up this gigantic structure of fraud. They have speculated upon the weakness of the old soldiers and the gullibility of the people and have won millions in the game.

"THE FARMER" AND "DE PUSH"

Mayor NOONAN has seized upon the allegation that he was overthrown in the City Central Committee by a contending faction led by a few moneyed politicians and is trying to turn it into a neat roll of political capital. He poses as a champion of the people against the designs of the grasping plutocrats. He cherishes the name of the "push," applied to his followers as a cognomen implying their representation of popular elements. "We are the people! Down with the gold influence!" he shouts, with leering audacity, to the responsive cheers of a submissive gang of pap-suckers, office-seekers, looters and corporation hangers-on.

Has it been a man of the people that the Mayor has run as a vicious machine as has ever been foisted upon the people of this city? Has it been a man of the people that he has endeavored to turn every department of the City Government into a disreputable wheel of that machine?
Is it a man of the people, who has given the rascals full swing, who has attempted to thwart the will of the people at the primaries, who, through his representatives, has run Democratic conventions in the interest of his machine, who has interfered with the administration of justice and has permitted the power of his office to be used as a shield for law-breakers? Would the people recognize as their man any one who has disgraced his high office as NOONAN has?
When the people degenerate wholly into a greedy, unscrupulous gang of political hacks, "de Push" will be the people and NOONAN will be their man.

The people of St. Louis have no sympathy with either faction in the party organization. Both are working for selfish interests and if one represents corrupt gold the other represents corrupt greed.
There is something, however, particularly disgusting in the campaign of the Noonan-Dalton crowd. This combination of "de push" and "Farmer Dick" is working a pure vein of blatant demagogism. Having bounced "Farmer" DALTON to become the figurehead of a dirty machine, the Mayor's clique is trying to bunco the people into accepting the disreputable bossism which lurks under it. The trick will hardly work.

AN IMPORTANT EXPERIMENT.

At last the Lucas river and ocean ship experiment is assuming a practical and business-like shape. The Iowa Iron Works of Dubuque, a strong concern, whose superintendent is a shipbuilder from the Clyde, has undertaken to build the first vessel on the Lucas model and to become a large stockholder in the enterprise. At the annual meeting of the Mississippi River and Ocean Navigation Co. in this city on Monday evening, JOHN F. CARILL, F.
L. DICKEY (Treasurer of the Iowa Iron Works), ANDREW H. LUCAS, HENRY J.
MEYER and JAMES E. CLARK, all of them except Mr. DICKEY being St. Louis men, were elected Directors for the ensuing year.

They have entire faith in the success of the Lucas plan of solving the problem of ocean and inland transportation without breaking bulk, and they are hopeful that the faith of distinguished naval construction experts in the entire practicability of this solution will bring to the aid of the Iowa Iron Works enough capital to cover the cost of an experimental vessel. We understand that their idea is to raise this capital in St.
Louis and other river towns, and then, after landing a cargo from St. Louis in some foreign port, to take an import cargo up the St. Lawrence waterway to Chicago and show their Lucas ship alongside the fleet of whalebacks which Chicago proposes to have on exhibition at the World's Fair.

Wonderful strides in the improvement of vessels for water transportation have been made within the last ten years, and the most scientific naval engineers and architects agree that the next ten will witness triumphs in navigation which the world has not yet dreamed of. The most successful of these strides are found in vessels for the navigation of the great lakes from Chicago to the sea, including the whale-back. But those improved lake and St.
Lawrence River vessels require more water than the Mississippi affords, and it is apparent that they will be superseded as soon as vessels are constructed of adjustable draught for both river and ocean navigation.

If a broad-bottomed, light draught river vessel can be steamed and strengthened for ocean navigation by means of a "center-board," raised or lowered at will, the result will be a great revolution in the world's commerce, to the incalculable advantage of inland river cities and districts in both North and South America. The cost of building a vessel to test the Lucas invention will be trifling, indeed, compared with the consequences of its success.

The society of Creede, the liveliest town in Colorado, is not in need of McAllister.
It has original rules of etiquette, which are enforced by the society leaders in their own peculiar, but effective way. A dispatch states that the bells of the place, who has become famous for her skill and daring in jumping and holding lots, conferred the honor of dancing with her twice on a young tenderfoot, and, upon his refusing to show the customary appreciation of such distinction by treating, chased him around the ball-room and stuck a knife into his shoulder. The belles of Creede are great sticklers for etiquette and strangers in the place would do well to acquaint themselves thoroughly with its social usages before presuming to enjoy their society.

It ought not to be necessary to tell the members of the School Board that abuse of a man who makes charges of corruption against certain directors and a refusal to investigate the charges merely increase suspicion of crookedness.

ELDER HARRISON does not like to associate with Mr. QUAY, but he will accept the services of the great boss before the campaign is over if he thinks such an alliance is necessary to save the country.

PERHAPS something in the nature of a Koetter's Hotel caucus would please NOONAN and his henchmen now better than a primary election in which the votes are counted.

The Conditions of Success.
From the New York World.

The next President must be a Democrat.
Without that it would be impossible to embody in law those ideas and those reforms for which Democracy stands. Legislation for the Government's needs, and for the enrichment of monopolies; economical administration; home rule; just government and a perfectly free people.

These are ideas which an overwhelming majority of the people desire to be written into the statute book. In order that they may be done the next President must be a Democrat, and in order that the next President may be a Democrat certain conditions must be fulfilled:

1. The National Democratic Convention must be left free to select a sure winning candidate. Its choice should not be hampered by instructions to delegates. The states which cannot contribute any electoral votes should resolutely put aside their own preferences so far as to let the States that elect select. Preferences and prejudices and personal animosities, whether for one man or another, should be subordinated to the one great purpose of choosing a candidate who can win.

2. The candidate must be one who can surely carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana. The votes of these States are absolutely necessary to the election of a Democratic President. If the candidate can also be one who has a chance of winning electoral votes in States usually Republican, so much the better. But there should be no hazardous of Democratic States for the chance of winning other States from the adversary.

3. The issues of the campaign must be kept as simple as possible and as free as possible from the "fads" of this or that faction. The platform should antagonize the record, the spirit and the work of the Fifty-first Congress and of the present Administration. There is issue enough to win with in that, and any attempt to add other issues will simply weaken the cause for the campaign.

4. When the platform is made and the candidate selected, every citizen, Democrat or Independent, who desires the overthrow of McAllister, must keep his method. Billion-dollar extravaganzas and corruption in administration, must put aside his whims and fancies, forget his disappointments, if he has any, and work and vote for the ticket for the sake of what its success will mean, even though the names upon it are not those he prefers.

These are the conditions of Democratic success this year. These are the terms on which the reforms desired by all Democrats and all Independents may be wrought. If they are loyally accepted—The next President will be a Democrat.

Eads' Monument.

From the Boston Journal.
New Orleans ought to hold Capt. James B.
Eads in grateful and perpetual remembrance.
When that famous engineer built his jetty and opened the Mississippi to the larger class of ocean steamships he made the city one of the great seaports of the world. Of late years the increase of the cotton-carrying trade out of New Orleans has been enormous. New Orleans people cannot quite a feather in their cap to have beaten the best of the world in the construction of the great Mississippi metropolis of the lower Mississippi.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

(No matter written on both sides of the sheet can appear under this head.—Ed.)

Senator Stewart's Gold Contracts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: The orators and editors who pretend to be opposed to the coinage of the constitutional dollar in the constitutional method is just now glorifying in the discovery that senator Stewart, who is a prominent advocate of the free coinage of gold, has been making gold contracts, which mortgages are payable in gold coin. I fall to see any reason in law or justice why he should not make any contract in silver dollars or in any other money, but equally fall to see any argument in favor of the gold theory in the facts as stated.
The gold theory is a mere device to enable one of these mortgages, the holder would or could bring suit to enforce payment, and would presumably get judgment for principal, interest, costs and damages, if all others would be judged as a certain number of dollars and thus would be payable in silver dollars. If you give the gold coin known to the constitution or the law, so that the mortgage would take nothing to use the fiction of the gold coin by the gold proviso in the mortgage. Here is another leg put for the gold bug to crack. Would a contract to pay 100 gold dollars be enforced by the courts? The law of 1876 made a gold dollar the standard and unit of value but forbade (by excluding) the coinage of gold dollars. Thus a promise to pay gold dollars is a promise to pay something which does not exist and a contract to perform what is known to be impossible has always been considered null in law. If you give the gold bug a chance to solve these two easy problems it will give them a hard one next time.

Washington Avenue Threatened.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
In your issue of the 9th inst., appeared a communication signed "Bona Fide" calling the attention of citizens in general to the fact that Washington avenue—the finest business street in the city, was to have a tobacco warehouse, and that the city pride ought to rise up against such a desecration of the city's thoroughfare. The writer taken by your correspondent are correct, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Drummond, who put a blot upon his fair name by doing any such thing as erecting a tobacco factory on Washington avenue, will wisely refrain from furthering the disgraceful and it would be blindness, bordering on criminality, for any of her citizens to put obstacles in the way of genuine progress. It is not my desire to interfere with any man's plans, but I think he should do that which is right, and not say, from him. But, as a citizen interested in the welfare of St. Louis, I hesitate not to say, and I think I voice the sentiments of St. Louis, that it was a pity the Liggett & Meyers and the Catlin

Tobacco factories were ever located where they are, and surely it is not asking too much that no more such industries shall be established in the most beautiful section of the business center of the city. The position of Washington avenue, the richness of the soil, the beauty of the city, a broad, aggressive, progressive policy would have been a very movement. No petty selfish schemes, schemes of false economy, ought to prevail.
Gold permanent investments is what we want. Our population is increasing rapidly.
Real estate has advanced wonderfully in the past three years. Those who own it are getting rich by the increment of value. They have become millionaires, and should not practice the "pound of flesh" policy, the 10 per cent plan, but should show themselves patriotic and public spirited.
"Bona Fide" ideas are truly patriotic, and I trust that Mr. Drummond will refrain from erecting tobacco warehouses on Washington avenue.
Erect a fine or ten story structure, one that will be an ornament to the city and add to the beauty of the great street—one that will show the people Mr. Drummond as a true son of St. Louis.
JOHN S.

Flogging in Schools.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Is it not time that something should be done to prevent the punishment of children in the public schools? A short time ago a child received a whipping from a teacher in one of the schools and died a few days after; that teacher was responsible for that child's death. Last night I read the account of an other child's death in your paper which had shortly after received a whipping with a rattan that left black and blue welts on his body.
The parents of these children have my sympathy. It is very hard to raise a child old enough to be sent to school, and to have it have it flogged to death for childish mischievousness. How much better it would be to send the child to a proper home, where it could be properly educated and trained.
The idea of using a rattan on a young tender is a relic of a barbaric age, and is a disgrace to our civilization. Where is the humane society for which Democracy stands? Parents of children in public schools should unite to take the law in their own hands. Nobody should be flogged in a school. If a child is sent to school to be educated, not to be whipped to death, if it is correct, if it is necessary, correct it in a proper manner.
A MOTHER.

A Well Disposed Company.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
In answer to an article appearing in a late issue of your paper, styled "Sawdust Nationalism," we would say that it has annoyed us as much as it does the citizens on Chouteau avenue, between Fourth and Main. We are not a party, but we are a company, and the so-called nuisance, but have as yet not been as successful as we would have liked to be, but if the complainants will be patient a few more days until certain dust collecting machines arrive which have been ordered by wire (same being guaranteed to do the work) at an expense of another $400, we will be able to keep the street clean all the time.

As for our blocking out pedestrians from the pavement there must be some mistake, for with a few exceptions of maybe three or four, we have no objection to the sidewalk. All our loading and unloading is done in the rear and side of the mill.
STANDARD EAGLE BOX CO.

Give Us Clean Streets.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
It is not important enough, both from a business and sanitary standpoint, for a great city like St. Louis to keep its streets clean through the year? It would seem so, but still it is not done. One of the first appropriations that should be made should be for street cleaning, and it should be large enough to keep the streets clean all the year round.
Apart from the healthfulness of the city, and the fact that it is a disgrace to the city and not a credit to it, it is a source of conflict. If anything has got to suffer for lack of a proper appropriation, let it not be the streets.

LOOKS QUEER.

John B. O'Meara's Position On the Noonan-Dalton Deal.

He Denies Positively That He Was a Party to It.

BUT THE MAYOR AND HIS FRIENDS ARE SURE HE IS WITH THEM.

A Probable Explanation of His Careless Attitude—The St. Louis Delegates Will Go to Him If Dalton Can Be Nominated and He Will Be Made Vice-President of the Police Board if Dalton Wins.

John B. O'Meara's office in the Emille Building is becoming a sort of political headquarters. He is stopped as he enters the building, button-hole in the corridors of the building and layed at the door of his office. Inside others wait for him. His position in this new Dalton move of Mayor Noonan is the one that has not yet become clear to politicians. They understand everything but the apparent breach between Noonan and his warmest personal friend, and the quiet way in which the candidate for Lieutenant-Governor takes it. Ed Devoy believes that the superficial aspect of the case is the true one, and that Noonan has merely abandoned the Mayor's cause.

"Doesn't the nomination of Dalton mean that O'Meara will be defeated, both depe-nding considerably on their Irish-American clique?"

"I don't see that that follows," replied the Dalton manager. "It is not fair to judge by O'Meara's not being at the first Dalton caucus that he is opposed to us."

EXPLAINING O'MEARA'S ATTITUDE.
The impression prevails among the working men that O'Meara is a very shrewd politician, and that he, the Mayor and his friends understand one another. One of O'Meara's closest friends is State Representative J. B. Parker. He has been coming to the Dalton boom for over a year. Representative Parker is close in with the Mayor's Dalton campaign.

He made a speech last night at the Twenty-fourth Ward where the Mayor and the Mayor's friends, too, laugh at the idea that there has been any disagreement. They have a story to explain the situation. It is told by one after another with remarkable agreement in details. It is that O'Meara was consulted before the Mayor went into the Dalton campaign, and was a party to the agreement between the leaders. The agreement was that the city delegation should be given to Dalton. If, on the con-vention, it was found that St. Louis could not nominate Dalton, the delegates were then to be turned over to O'Meara, to vote for him on any combination with a gubernatorial candidate he might make. St. Louis could not nominate Dalton it was to be done, and O'Meara was to be compensated for the loss of the second place on the ticket that would follow by being made Vice-President of the Police Board by the new Dalton delegation.

O'Meara's POSITIVE STATEMENTS.
He said to-day: "I can't afford to deceive myself. I know the Mayor. I know that I tell the truth. I'm with the party as I am with men. When I say I am for a man I'm for him and when I say I'm against a man I'm against him. I'm not in the Noonan camp. I had to get out when he made his combination with anybody and am running on my own. I'm putting up no delusions, but I'm saying to the boys that I'd like to have their votes in the convention. They will not be disappointed. If Dalton is nominated I can't be, and I'm pretty sure that when the time comes I'll be in it."

DEVROY'S TALK WITH DALTON.
Dick Dalton is still in town. Gov. Francis came to St. Louis yesterday with the intention of getting a nearer look at the political fireworks being set off, and went back to the State capital. He was in the city all day in making new acquaintances, and consulting with Mayor Noonan, W. N. Swift and Philo and Kenney.

Two railroad attorneys who do the political work for the Missouri Pacific and the Frisco, yesterday afternoon saw Dalton, responding to a rather peremptory summons to call on him. The man who has hitherto been the Dalton leader in the city and has been betrayed by the Noonan deal, Dalton, said to-day: "I'm with the party as I am with men. When I say I am for a man I'm for him and when I say I'm against a man I'm against him. I'm not in the Noonan camp. I had to get out when he made his combination with anybody and am running on my own. I'm putting up no delusions, but I'm saying to the boys that I'd like to have their votes in the convention. They will not be disappointed. If

At a public meeting held last night at the Garfield School House J. J. Malone and Zachariah Moore were nominated as candidates for school directors in the Illinois city district. These candidates will have as opponents Newton Wilkinson and William McManus, who were nominated some time ago. A meeting of the People's party to nominate candidates in the city district was held at Vonshausen's Hall last night, but owing to the poor attendance no nominations were made. But one director is to be elected this year in the Illinois district, Robert Cunningham, whose term expires, will be a candidate for re-election, and it is said that he will have no opposition.

A boy named John H. was accidentally injured in a very peculiar manner at the Nelson Morris beef cannery at the Washington Stock Land this forenoon. He slipped and fell against a butcher who had a large knife in his hand. The boy fell between the feet of the butcher and the knife fell down. In the fall the knife was in some way drawn across the boy's right arm above the elbow and the flesh was cut to the bone, the knife being completely severed. At last election here has disclosed the fact that two assistant supervisors were voted for last year in the city district, and the election was held at the Garfield School House. A certificate to the latter for the reason that only one vacancy was to be filled, and the other was filled by the highest number of votes. It appears that the words "two to be elected" were removed from the township. Mr. Kurran takes of contesting.

Thomas Richards and M. Hall were arrested today on a warrant sworn out by J. S. Nelson. Detective Kinney arrested them on charges of assaulting him with a fire poker and that Hall threatened to shoot him. The hearing was held at the police court this forenoon. The Lincoln House on South Richard street, the Cairo Street Line House on South Third street, and the Lincoln House on North Illinois street were the places burglarized. A number of articles of minor value were taken from each of these places, but at neither did the thefts amount to anything material. The police are at a loss to know who committed the robberies, and the city was supposed to be entirely free from thieves.

In the Circuit Court application has been made for the removal of the County Court to the United States Court. Plaintiff, who lately obtained a large judgment against the county, is considering the proposition to compromise for $20,000 with the alternative of having the case tried by a jury.

Sore Throat.
Sore throat is the cause of more than half the trouble that comes from contagious diseases. The germs of these maladies such as scarlet fever, diphtheria, mumps, measles, small-pox and the like float in the air. They can be taken into the human system without danger, if they do not find an abraded surface. If they do, they enter the blood and swarm in millions. It is well known that diphtheria can be taken from a wound on the skin on the body. It is particularly noticeable that when such a malady as diphtheria rages it always attacks people after they have caught a slight cold. When you take cold, therefore, and your throat is sore get a bottle of REID'S GERMAN COUGH & KIDNEY CURE at once and take it freely. If your druggist will not order it for you write to us. ## AMERICAN DAY.

A Plan to Inaugurate a National Fete
July 4

BY PATRIOTIC CITIZENS WHO WISE TO HEAR THE EAGLE SING.

Mass Meetings of Americans Soon to Be Called to Arrange for a Celebration the Equal of Which No Country Has Ever Seen—The Promoters' Ideas of Celebrating.

A movement is on foot in this city to inaugurate what will hereafter be known as "American Day," and the citizens who are interested in the scheme are arranging to have a grand celebration here July 4. They are urged in their work by the spirit of patriotism solely, and are inspired with the idea of celebrating an "American Holiday" by the yearly celebrations held in this country by clans and loving sons from other parts of the world. Every year the deeds of the Patron Saint of Ireland and the condition of the Irish people are recalled to the attention of the world by the universal celebration of St. Patrick's Day. The fall of the Bastille, when the yoke of thralldom fell from the shoulders of the French people, is revived annually by the fetes held by the children of France all over the world. The Queen's birthday gives the Britons in every clime an opportunity to display their love for their mother country and their Queen. St. Andrew's Day is always observed by the native Scot wherever he may be by feasting and sports, and in a large city by the Caledonian games and a banquet. Only a few years ago the Germans began celebrating what was called "German Day." There were so many events in the history of the race that no particular anniversary could be agreed upon unanimously and it was agreed to declare a holiday for harvest time in October. The Swedes in this country have of late years been celebrating the anniversary of the landing of the Swedes in America over two hundred and fifty years ago. The Italians and Poles also have their anniversaries when they set business aside and congregate to enjoy themselves, and even the negroes annually commemorate the proclamation of emancipation. These holidays, festivals and anniversaries are celebrated by picnics, barbecues and great gatherings, at which speeches are made, national music is played, peculiar national games are indulged in and there are other features which distinctly mark the day.

HOW TO CELEBRATE.
The American citizens, the promoters admit, celebrate July 4, the day of the nation's birth, but they claim it is done in a manner which gives it no distinction or character, and of late years has become nothing more than a recreation day, when thousands take advantage of the occasion to leave the city on excursions and attend picnics in the solitude of the country away from the big cities. The small boy is the only patriot to be found on July 4, and even he does not understand why it is that he is given pocket money for firecrackers, and why he is permitted on that day to spread ruin on all sides.

THE PLANS OF PATRIOTS.
J. F. Tarboald of the Bell Telephone Co. and John L. Collins, two of the leading promoters of the scheme to make a change and inaugurate "American Day," are making definite plans to give it a boom. They propose to engage a band, perhaps the Music Hall, at some near day and call a mass-meeting of the patriotic citizens of the city. They will propose that an American picnic be held July 4, at Forest Park, or at several parks in the city, which will be attended by the patriotic American families who will go there with their baskets and games and make a day of it. All the bands in the city will be secured to play only American music and national airs. The Declaration of Independence will be read, and speeches made, as in the early days of July 4 celebrations. The national game of baseball will of course be one of the features and great attractions. The inventive American will find much to amuse him if he is agreed with thousands of others to make the day distinctly American. Messrs. Tarboald and Collins are finding hundreds of disciples who endorse the plan on first hearing of it. They have already received almost sufficient encouragement to warrant them in hiring a hall and calling the contemplated mass meeting.

A number of grand Army men were seen to-day and asked what they thought of the idea of preparing for a big celebration on the Fourth of July. They expressed themselves as follows:
J. F. Clerley, Adjutant of Ransom Post: "It seems to me that the celebration might be a large and imposing one, and I think that the Grand Army would be very glad to participate very cheerfully in the celebration."

Sol Boehm, Post Commander of Blair Post: "I am most strongly in favor of a proper observance of the Fourth of July, and will turn out if the celebration comes off." Stephen Dellacella of Blair Post: "Certainly! I favor anything that gives life to the town and increases patriotic sentiment."

Charles Breker, Commander of Meumann Post: "I am heart and soul in favor of a demonstration! The Grand Army will turn out, and don't you forget it!" Ignatz Hartman, Post Commander of Hasendebel Post: "Our Commander will be heart and soul for such a demonstration. It is time that we had a big celebration of the Fourth of July in St. Louis."

F. P. Becker, Quartermaster of Hasendebel Post: "Grand Army men are in for everything of that kind. Men who love the flag with all their heart and soul are anxious to shed their blood for it, will be anxious to engage in a patriotic observance of Independence Day."

Jacob McGruen, Quartermaster of Gen. Lyon Post: "I am in for it. The Fourth of July should be kept up again, and who should be more disposed than Grand Army men to assist in a suitable celebration of the day."

John P. Kivitts, Post Commander of Harding Post: "The idea is a grand one, and Logan Post will do its quota." Col. Thomas B. Rodgers, Assistant Adjutant-General of the Department of Missouri, said that the Grand Army always felt it a duty to take a hand in any public and patriotic demonstration and that the Post-Dispatch might count on them doing their share.

Fritz Halle, President of the North American Kriegerbund, a confederation of German societies composed of soldiers who fought in Germany, said that the five veterans in St. Louis would assuredly join in the proposed celebration.

Sons of Veterans were interviewed and all said that they would be very happy to display their bran new uniforms in the presence of observing thousands.
Other talks with comrades brought out the opinion that this might be made the biggest event St. Louis had seen for some time. Excursion trains loaded with comrades would run to St. Louis from all directions at half fare, customary on holidays; and from many places Kansas City, Sedalia, Jefferson City, Hannibal, Quincy and Springfield, Ill., large delegations might be expected.

It was figured that the St. Louis posts might on a moderate estimate place 1,500 uniformed men in line; the Sons of Veterans could produce 500 to 1,000 more, and in the aggregate several thousands might be expected from the outside on the hypothesis that the demonstration is well worked up, and the Grand Army is assured that the Grand Army will be a conspicuous feature of the proposed demonstration.

The scheme would probably embrace an invitation to the Department Commander, Comrade C. W. Whitehead of Kansas City, to participate officially in the celebration, and perhaps also the department officers of Illinois and other neighboring States.

NORTH AMERICAN TURNERBUND.

Meeting of the Managing Committee Held Here Last Night.

The Vorort (managing committee) of the North American Turnerbund held its regular monthly sitting last evening.

Ernest Heinemann, John Hell and C. W. Bothmann of New York were chosen to represent the Turn system of gymnastics in the meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union in that city, April 20.

There was some discussion over the way the Turners should be represented at the Columbian Exposition. The matter was referred to the Turnerbund, which meets at Washington in June.

There was great satisfaction expressed over the passage of the law in Ohio admitting the Turn system of physical culture in the public schools.
The following Turnvereins were admitted to the Bund: Mt. Vernon, 100 members; Detroit Turnverein, Central Turn and Gesangsverein, Bradford, Pa.; Mt. Olive Turn and Gesangsverein, Pittsburg, Pa., and the East St. Louis Turngemeinde.

Good reports were submitted of Turnlehrer Stecher's advocacy of the Turn system over the Swedish at the recent Physical Culture Convention in New York. He succeeded in knocking the Swedish system completely out.

Herr Becker of Hot Springs, Ark. read and nounced a meeting of the Southern Turnerbund at that place, May 8-11. Fifteen unions, some of them in Texas, would be represented. He invited the St. Louis unions to participate, and the Vorort voted to do what it could.

EPH HOUSTON FINED $25.

The Outcome of a Row in a Colored Men's Craps Den.

Eph Houston, the proprietor of the Eagle's Nest, a notorious crap house, in an alley, between Sixth and Seventh streets, near Spruce street, was fined $25 by Judge Morris this morning for firing off his pistol the other night. According to Eph and a colored woman named Kate Brown, some of the crap players thought they were losing too much money and tried to demolish the place. They turned out the lights and Kate broke all the lamp chimneys, and somebody in the alley outside broke out one of the windows, lights, sash and all, with a brick. Then a pistol was fired and the supposition was that Eph fired. Kate at first claimed to own the pistol, but later she admitted that she had broken the lamp chimneys. The judge thought that Kate was lying and gave her a lecture. "Some of you niggers," said he, "ought to go to the penitentiary. Some day you'll be sent up, and I hope the day will come soon."

The only witness for the prosecution was the policeman, and he only knew what Kate Brown had told him, but the court was satisfied that Eph had shot at the woman and fined him $25.
